Decision on Certification

Corada completed its review of the sample wheelchair scale and ADAKIT and product literature submitted above for compliance with the Corada Product Certification Scheme for Platinum Certification on February 28, 2025. The submitted product and relevant materials were reviewed to verify their compliance with the strictest of all requirements of the following Normative Standards and official technical assistance documents under our program:

 a) 2010 ADA Standards for Accessible Design (ADAS)
 b) ABA Architectural Barriers Act Accessibility Standard for GSA Facilities (ABAS)
 c) 2022 California Building Code Chapter 11B - Accessibility Standards
 d) 2020 Florida Building Code: Accessibility Standards
 e) 2012 Texas Accessibility Standards (TAS)
 f) ICC A117.1-2017 Accessible and Usable Buildings and Facilities (Model Standard)

Failure to meet any of the requirements in any Normative Standard for a specified use disqualifies the product for certification for that use. Congratulations! The product set passes all requirements for Platinum Level Corada Product Certification.

Product Performance

The product meets all requirements of all Normative Standards for Platinum Certification.

Product Literature and Website (Product Materials)

Certified products must only be shown in a compliant manner in installation instructions, product literature, company website, and other materials available to customers.

The product literature and website pages meet all requirements of all Normative Standards for Platinum Certification. You may now use the Corada Platinum Certification Mark and Corada Word Marks according to Paragraph 7 of our Agreement and Brand Standards.
